Registration Details:

The Louisville event has two separate schedules running due to mandatory RT-372 requirements: (1) RT-372 Helicopter Manager Refresher - Louisville KY and (2) IAT Workshop – Louisville KY.

(1) RT-372 Helicopter Manager Refresher - Louisville KY Registration Info:

If you are attending the RT-372 (resource or fire helicopter manager) and wish to receive the full amount of RT credit hours, you MUST attend 100% of ONE of the Tracks being offered: Track A OR Track B. (The one difference between tracks is Track A offers A-307 while Track B offers A-311). If you only need a few helicopter manager courses to remain current for your position, you may register online for those classes individually, if space is available.

(2) IAT Workshop – Louisville KY Registration Info:

The IAT Workshop offers aviation manager classes along with a set of required courses for other DOI and USFS aviation positions, both resource and fire. The list of classes offered can be found on the event registration page.

*Registering for Classes in Both Events:

Registering for classes in both events is possible but please select courses carefully. The two events are not linked and will not alert you if you have double booked yourself (time or class).

Unable to Attend the Event

We understand priorities change so if you have registered for the event and are no longer able to attend, please cancel your registration to open up space for someone else. Registration can be canceled from the “Overview” tab once you have logged into your IAT.gov account.

If you need assistance or to make changes to your schedule, please email IAT_Admin@ios.doi.gov with the details.
